Time to honour the people who press for clarity

Behind every great document or webpage are the people who make them happen.

Who are your clarity warriors? Who are the people at your place who question — the ones who are never quite satisfied, the ones who insist on reworking that text one more time?

Honour the people at your place who inspire others to write more clearly and purposefully.

Sponsor spotlight — Editor Software (UK)

Thanks to Editor Software's continued support for the Awards, all winners will receive a copy of the brilliant editing software, StyleWriter.

'We've sponsored the Awards for several years to encourage the work of the WriteMark Plain English Awards Trust in changing the way business and government communicates. We've given licences to our award-winning StyleWriter software and we believe this is the solution to changing the way people write in the workplace. The Trust has raised the profile of plain English in New Zealand. Long may its work continue.'
