Entries for the 2014 Plain English Awards are now open!

If you've got a document or website you're proud of, an awful sentence you've transformed, or team members who are amazing advocates for the clear and precise, you've got an entry! Nominate your own work – why wouldn't you?

Even though you've got three whole months to enter, it'd be great to get your entry in sooner. Or use the time to fine-tune and test your document or website to boost your chances of winning!

This year our international panel of expert judges are especially looking for the positive impact of clearer communication. If you've got a success story to share, here's your chance.

Important dates

Entries open: now!

Entries close: 12 September

Awards ceremony: 27 November

A huge thank you to our returning sponsors

As always we are so grateful to our wonderful sponsors who continue to make the Awards possible. Thank you to founding sponsor Write Limited, and NZ Superannuation Fund, Sysdoc, Business NZ, Printing.com, Consumer NZ, Editor Software (UK), and TCANZ.

And big thanks to our new design sponsor Alexander Rose

Did you notice our bright new email banner? Our new look is all thanks to our fabulous design sponsor, Alexander Rose. We couldn't recommend Philippa and Darren more highly.

As well as contributing a bunch of fresh ideas, they've been fantastic to work with. They listened, asked thoughtful questions, worked fast, and gave us a brilliant result. Plus they're lovely people!

A change to the financial document category

If you're thinking of entering the financial category this year, you'll see that the name and criteria have changed. This year, at the request of our sponsor NZ Superannuation Fund, we're looking for the Best Plain English Annual Report.
